The QMC organises its projects around the Safe Systems Framework used by most governments in Australia and around the world. It allows the QMC to present a structured view of projects that aligns with how governments structure their strategic planning.